HOLIDAY NOVELTIES

Natural History of the Igorrote

The Igorrote is not such a carnivorous "animal" as has been so freely implied, according to those who are best acquainted with the people as they live on the islands, according to the Seattle Star. There is a sort of superstitious belief among the dog-eaters governing the ceremony of ushering the canine into eternity and serving it as a morsel of food.

In the first place the Igorrote is particular about the kind of a dog served him. A short-haired, yellow dog suits his mind the best. A particularly vicious dog is a dietary dream. A fine-looking dog appeals to the sense of beauty and offends the life of a dog is spared because of its peculiarly pleasant lines.

According to the Igorrote the dog possesses a "brave spirit," which is shown only when driven into a corner and danger is threatened. Before killing a dog for the feast the warriors of the tribe harass the dog until it becomes furious. When this point is reached the brave little men of the tribe seize it and immediately cut its throat.

Dog Served With Rice.

It takes four dog eaters to do this. The blood is saved in a tom-tom, a musical instrument, and served with rice. This is a great delicacy for the men of the tribe. The dog is then deprived of its hair by singeing and a strange ceremony performed over its body. The animal is then chopped to pieces, entrails and all, and thrown into the boiler to cook.

Two hours is consumed in cooking the animal and the feast is ready. The peculiar superstition attending the feast is that the brave spirit shown by the dog before the killing will enter one of the members of the tribe. The women are barred from this feast, because the Igorrotes fear that the brave spirit might make a mistake and get into a woman.

The dog eaters do not wait after the cooking process is ended, but proceed to eat while the stew is warm. Choice pieces of meat are picked from the hot boilers with fingers and a dog sandwich, which consists of a handful of rice and a chunk of dog meat, comprises the feast.

Among the head hunters of the tribe the feast is only observed when the head of an enemy is brought into camp, and only those who have won distinction by bravery are allowed to partake. Cowards are not allowed to attend the feasts, for fear the brave spirit would be lost. The feast begins seven days before the hunter starts on an expedition and continues for seven days after his return.

Plant Rice to Music.

The Negritos are a wandering race of people and, on account of their small stature, are considered as children by all races on the islands and are unmolested. Consequently they follow a roving life and lead a slovenly existence. They plant rice wherever they happen to be, so long as it is not an encroachment upon the territory of other tribes and this branch of their farming is interesting.

The male members of the tribe go to the field, the only instrument used being a stick crudely sharpened. A woman musician of the tribe takes a position within hearing of all and slowly plays a tune on a rough harp. To this tune the men jab the stick into the ground, varying their movements by the music dished out. The wives follow and drop a few rice seeds into the hole and cover it.

Heads Alone Count.

The manner of selecting a chief in the tribes differs according to the viciousness or habits of the people. Chief Antonio, of the Igorrotes, was chosen on account of his bravery. All chiefs of this tribe are selected in this manner. The candidate for the position must make a record for himself in getting heads of the enemy, which is chiefly the Moros, and other heroic stunts.

The Negritos elect their chief by ballot. A bowl is used as the ballot box and each candidate has one in order to keep the votes separate. These bowls are arranged side by side on a large rock and the old chief of the tribe presides over them. The male members of the tribe approach the old chief, make a proper salaam and tell him who is their choice.

The chief then takes a small pebble provided for the purpose, and places it in the bowl belonging to the candidate. After the polls are closed, the ballots are counted by the chief and the candidate receiving the largest number of stones is elected.

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free."

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N. Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restless sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me.

"I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put away all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MISS NELLIE HOLMES, 340 No. Division St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Irene Crosby, prominent in Social Life in East Savannah, Ga., adds her testimonial to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—"It always gives me pleasure to find an article of real value and unquestioned merit. I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound well calculated to relieve and cure the various troubles arising from irregularities and menstrual pains.

"Much suffering could be spared if we only paid more attention to proper living and diet, but as long as women do not do this, your Vegetable Compound has come to the front as a true friend in need. I have been very pleased indeed with the relief it has brought me. I find that I have perfect health now, and that my mind is also more clear and active since I used your Vegetable Compound. It has been of great benefit to me, and I gladly recommend it. Very sincerely yours, MISS IRENE CROSBY, 313 East Charlton St., East Savannah, Ga."

Remember that every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her case or symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and is cheerfully given to any ailing woman who asks for it.
